Legal Holidays.

There are nine appointed holidays in this state, besides half holidays on Saturday afternoons throughout the year, to all of which the law respecting drafts and notes applies. The nine holidays are New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, election day (November), Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. When the 1st of January, the 22nd of February, the 4th of July or the 25th of December occur on Sunday, the following Monday becomes the holiday, and drafts, notes, etc., falling due on that day become payable on the Tuesday following. But when the 30th of May occurs on Sunday, the preceding Saturday becomes the holiday, and drafts, notes, etc., due on that day become payable on the following Monday. The holiday laws, having been enacted from time to time, used to be somewhat confusing, but last year the legislature enacted a general law on the subject, preserving, however, the peculiarity respecting Memorial Day. It is likely now that a national Labor Day has been appointed, that an effort will be made to amend the state law to conform thereto, thus changing Labor Day from the first Saturday to the first Monday in September, as Saturday would in any event be a half holiday, and the tendency has been for a long time towards an increase of the days of rest.

Glass Works News.

Some time ago, cashier John P. Harris of the First National Bank who has an interest in the Bellefonte Glass Works placed an advertisement in one of the publications of the glass trade. In it he gave a complete description of the plant at this place, its equipment and favorable location and offered it either for sale or rent. The advertisement has attracted the attention of a number of prominent capitalists and manufacturers who have been in correspondence with him. He thinks he may be able to affect a sale or lease. At present there is a misunderstanding between the glassworkers union and the manufacturers in regard to the wage scale under the new tariff schedule. After that becomes settled something definite may be accomplished.

Pennsylvania Tours to the South.

For several seasons past the announcement of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's Tours to the South has been looked for with interest, and the pleasant anticipations of those who participated in them have been more than realized. For the present early autumn, announcement is made of two personally-conducted tours from New York to the mountains of Maryland and Virginia and the two most prominent cities of the upper South. The specific points covered by these tours are Gettysburg, Blue Mountain, Luray Caverns, Natural Bridge, the Grottoes of the Shenandoah, and the cities of Richmond and Washington.

It would be difficult to plan a tour of ten days which would embrace a more interesting group of places, as every one of them has an individual interest that cannot fail to enlist wide and favorable attention. The scenery of the entire route is picturesque and attractive, and the season is timed so as to present the scenic beauties in their best form.

These tours will leave New York and Philadelphia on September 15 and 20, and the members of the party will travel in special trains of parlor cars provided exclusively for their use. The entire round trip covers a period of ten days, and excursion tickets, including all traveling expenses, will be sold from New York at $55 and Philadelphia $63.

For itineraries containing complete information as to routes, special train service, descriptive notes, etc., apply to or address Tourist Agent, 1196 Broadway, N. Y., or Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Sep. 3, 1894.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Does Mr. Cleveland wish the democrats to lose control of the House? He has certainly done a number of things recently which indicate that he does, and quite a number of the shrewdest observers of things political at the National Capital have stated their opinions to be that Mr. Cleveland would be glad to see either the republicans control, or the populists hold the balance of power in the next House. His last act before leaving Washington was to appoint a long list of postmasters, three-fourths of whom were opposed by the democratic Congressmen from their district; thus apparently adding all he could to the difficulties already being experienced by the aforesaid democratic Congressmen. He is also at the bottom of the row in the democratic Congressional campaign committee, which will probably result in that committee not sending out any tariff documents at all, leaving every democratic candidate free to decide for himself whether he will defend or abuse the sugar tariff law.

The theory of those who believe this to be Mr. Cleveland's position is that he has had quite enough democratic legislation and wishes to see Congress in a position where it can do nothing for the next two years, except to pass the regular appropriation bills. He hopes by that time that the people will have forgotten the disastrous first two years of his administration, and that he will have at least a fighting chance to be re-elected should he succeed in getting the nomination again, which he is egotistical enough to believe that he can easily do, notwithstanding his being on bad terms with nearly every prominent member of his party. There is one little drawback certain to defeat this scheme, even should all the rest of it work the people will not forget.

Secretary Gresham either has a short memory or he thinks the American people have. When the tariff bill was pending in the Senate news was cabled from Europe that if the sugar trust schedule became a law Spain would retaliate by abrogating the reciprocity agreement under which special rates by Cuba and Porto Rico. So great an impression did that cablegram make on the Senate that a resolution was adopted asking the Secretary of State if he had any knowledge of an intention upon the part of Spain or any other country to retaliate upon the United States because of the tariff bill. In answer to that resolution Secretary Gresham said he had no such information and intimated that nobody else had and that he did not believe any country contemplated such action. Now, when the State department is in possession of the official notification of the abrogation of the reciprocity agreement with Spain for Cuba and Porto Rico, he says he is not surprised and that he expects other countries to abrogate the reciprocity agreements made under the McKinley law. It looks as though Mr. Gresham also allows the interests of the sugar trust to regulate his official utterances.

Mr. Philip T. Colgrove, chairman of the State League of republican clubs of Michigan, is visiting Washington. He says: "The democrats will make a poor showing in Michigan this year. The grand old party will sweep the state by fifty thousand to seventy-five thousand majority. It can beat the combined opposition of democrats and populists, with the prohibitionists thrown in. Of the twelve Congressional districts, the republicans will carry all but the first."

Senator Manderson is trying hard to convince Secretary Carlisle of his decision that no more sugar bounties should be paid. Senator Manderson contends, and it is a common sense contention, that the sugar makers are entitled to the bounty on every pound of sugar made up to the hour that the tariff bill went into effect, and he is not without hope that Secretary Carlisle will reverse his decision, as he has always reversed several other tariff decisions he has made. Whether he succeeds or not that clause of the tariff bill which repeals the sugar bounty will probably get into the courts sooner or later as it is contended by many that the government is bound to pay the bounty on this year's crop of sugar of all kinds, because contracts had been made with cane and beet planters and maple syrup growers by the sugar manufacturers before it was known that the bounty would be repealed. It is well nigh certain that these parties will go into court to force the manufacturers to live up to those contracts and then the manufacturers will plead a breach of faith on the part of the government, in repealing the bounty without notice. Good lawyers say that in other cases the government has been compelled to pay damages for injury done to individuals by act of Congress, and that the sugar people have a good cause.

WM. REEDER THROAT CUT.

A Sensational Murder in Lock Haven Wednesday.

Late yesterday afternoon Lock Haven was thrown into a state of excitement over a sensational murder and last evening the affair was the chief topic of conversation in that place.

About 5.30 o'clock a young man named A. Winchester, of Wayne Station, and Joseph Moore, of Lock Haven, became involved in a quarrel, while in the Opera House pool room. William Reeder, who was present, stepped in between the two, intending to act in the capacity of peace-maker. This interference, as Winchester considered it, so incensed the latter that he whipped out a dagger and cut Reeder's throat.

Reeder dropped to the floor, his death being almost instantaneous. Winchester turned on Moore and stabbed him in the back, side and arms. Moore fell unconscious to the floor. Intense excitement was created, as the scenes of the murder is in the most prominent business section of that city, and in a few moments a large crowd gathered. Chief of Police Keller arrested Winchester and he was at once lodged in jail.

The body of Reeder was taken to his home. He was about 30 years of age and leaves a wife, but no children. He was a lineman and was in the employ of the electric light company at Lock Haven. Those who knew him say he was whole-souled and honorable and his many friends regret his violent death.

Joseph Moore was removed to his home. He is the son of councilman E. L. Moore, who conducts a large grocery and provision house on Bellefonte avenue. Last evening he was in an unconscious condition, but his physician thinks he will recover.

It is understood that the trouble was brought about by Winchester accusing Moore of borrowing $5 from him and refusing to pay it back. The parties had been drinking together.

Winchester purchased the dagger, with which he did his bloody work, from Har-der's sporting goods house, Lock Haven, yesterday. When he was questioned after the murder, as to why he had used the weapon, he said that he intended to protect himself from being robbed.

Who Are Heroines?

The girl who labors in the kitchen in order to support herself and stay the hand of infamy, acts the part of a heroine. The wife who, with an invalid husband or with a trifling husband, sustains herself and family, acts the part of a heroine. The widow who relies on her industry for a livelihood, acts the part of a heroine.

The young lady who braves the fashions of life and attends school until she adorns her mind with useful knowledge, has in her elements of heroism. The young lady who qualifies herself for business and prefers to make in that business some money that she can call her own, rather than to depend upon her father for all she receives is worthy of being called a heroine. Hundreds of such heroines are found in shops, in factories, in stores, in kitchens and in schools—women who went forth to labor.

New Branch.

The extension of the Bellefonte Central Railroad from State College to Pine Grove Mills is being pushed right along. A gang of about fifty workmen and teams have been busy for the past few weeks on the roadbed, which is completed about half of the distance, and track is laid on the same. At the present rate they should reach Pine Grove Mills by about the beginning of October. The opening of the road to that point will mean the development of large lumber operations in the mountains back of Pine Grove. It will be sure to be a valuable source of traffic.

Upon the opening of this branch the people living in that vicinity should better themselves for a monster celebration. Get all Ferguson township aroused and have a general jubilee.

The United States Army.

The true standing army of the United States—the only one which we can rely on for effective or useful service in the future—is the great body of teachers in our common schools, academies and colleges. This number has increased from 229,921, in 1872, to 377,000 in 1892. The appropriations for schools between these two periods have increased from $74,234,476 to $155,000,000, and yet how far short we are in our comprehensions of the duty and responsibility which now rests upon us.—Edward Atkinson, in the Forum.

The Christian Endeavors.

The Presbyterian chapel was crowded on Wednesday evening at the opening session of the county convention of the Young Peoples Society Christian Endeavor. Mr. Robert Irvin presided and Harris Heylman acted as secretary. The meeting was opened with a praise service followed with prayer by Rev. George W. Leisher, of Bowlsburg. Rev. William Laurie made the address of welcome and was responded to by Prof. G. C. Butz, of State College. The roll call showed a large number of delegates present from all parts of the county. After the meeting was dismissed an informal reception was held in the chapel in honor of the visiting delegates.

Half Rates to Pittsburgh, Pa., on Account of the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The Pennsylvania Railroad announces that excursion tickets will be sold at half rates, September 6th to September 10th, good to return until September 25th, with a minimum rate of fifty cents. It is expected that this will be the largest Grand Army Encampment that has ever been held, from the fact that the name of Pittsburgh is remembered by every veteran, as it was the first city to establish a Subsistence Committee.

The following program has been adopted by the Citizens Executive Committee:

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10th,
Parade of the Naval Veterans, escorted by the Sons of Veterans. Camp fire in the evening under the auspices of the Naval Veterans at Old City Hall.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11th,
Parade of the Grand Army of the Republic. Camp fires in the evening at Old City Hall, the head quarters of the Sanitary Commission.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12th,
The 28th National Encampment will convene at the Grand Opera House, at 10.00 A. M. with an open meeting, at which the Governor of the State, the Mayors of the two cities and a representative of the Department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. will deliver address of welcome. On the same date the annual meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Daughters of Veterans. Parade of the Union Ex-prisoners of War, escorted by the National Guard. In the evening an entertainment will be given the representatives to the several National bodies at East Pittsburgh, in the immense buildings at that place tendered for their use by Mr. George Westinghouse.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13th,
Continuation of the meeting of Encampment and other National bodies.

In the evening a magnificent display of fire works on the river.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14th,
Steamboat excursion to Davis Island Dam and other points of interest.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will be prepared to carry every person who may desire to attend this, the 28th National Encampment of the G. A. R.

Who Will Be There.

The following is the list of speakers whom the management at the granger's picnic at Centre Hall have arranged to have there during picnic week, September 17th to 22nd.

Speakers of the national grange Col. J. H. Brigham, master; Hon. Mortimer Whitehead, of New Jersey, Mrs. Carrie Ewing, of New York.

Of the state grange, J. T. Ailman, lecturer, Col. R. H. Thomas, secretary, and Wm. M. Benninger, deputy.

State College, Dr. W. W. Atherton, W. T. Waters and Wm. Frar.

State agricultural experiment station, Dr. H. P. Armsby.

State board of agriculture, Dr. E. H. Warren, state ornithologist.

State forestry commission, Dr. J. T. Rothrock; of state and county, Gen. D. H. Hastings, Gen. Beaver, Hon. C. M. Bower, Prof. C. J. Gramley, Rev. J. Zeigler.

Of the state weather service, Hon. T. E. Townsend; of the state temperance organization, Homer L. Castle and M. Patton.

Of the county grange, I. S. Frain, master; Col. James F. Weaver, lecturer.

School Houses to be Repaired.

The Spring township school board are having two of the school houses near Bellefonte enlarged and repaired. The schoolhouse at Valentines' furnace will have an addition of 18 feet wide by 26 feet long added to it on the eastern side. The contract for the work has been given to Michael Karstetter and sons, of Pleasant Gap. The school house, located on the pike to Milesburg and known as the red schoolhouse, will also be fixed up. Addition of 18x28 feet will be added and the entrance will be changed from the south to the east side.

Pennsylvania Crops.

The weather bureau furnishes the following report of crop conditions in Pennsylvania for the week ending yesterday: Drought unbroken and effects very damaging to all crops; corn drying up; light yield of potatoes; buckwheat below average; pasture very short and stock being fed; most tobacco housed in good condition.

HE WAS DETERMINED.

But A Good Shot Made Him Change His Mind.

For some time the people in the vicinity of Centre Hall has been missing chickens, garden truck, etc., and it was evident that some thief in that community was becoming too active. Samuel Rowe, who lives on the property near the tannery missed a lot of chickens some time ago and was on the alert.

On Monday night he heard a noise about his hen roost. He went to the stable and discovered a man on the premises. When the man came, Rowe stood up and uttered "booh" and raised his revolver. The man sprang toward him on seeing he was discovered. Rowe fired in the air to scare, but the man still advanced and attempted to grapple, and Rowe backed away, but he received a blow on the right side of the face, then he fired again in self-defense, and three more shots followed in quick succession. A short scuffle ensued and the man beat a hasty retreat around the stable up the hill towards the mountain. Rowe was certain he had hit the man, as he uttered a cry and seemed to throw up his hands.

At two o'clock in the morning Dr. Jacobs was called upon to dress wounds upon Jacob From's shoulder and wrist, which were the result of being shot with a revolver. Both were flesh wounds, no bones being broken. Another ball grazed the upper part of the right arm, grazing the flesh and leaving a blue mark over an inch long.

The night being dark, Mr. Rowe could not tell who his antagonist was, but the result soon proved as he was called on afterwards by From to assist him in probing for the ball, but Mr. Rowe insisted on going to Dr. Jacobs for that work, whither the two went and the ball, a 32-calibre, was extracted.

From alleges he was out looking for his horse, which he says he had strayed from the lot, and was not attempting to steal chickens. He had been in prison once before on a charge of stealing turkeys.

From, as is his custom, attended our curb market on Tuesday morning. He held his left arm carefully and appeared very pale, apparently suffering great pain. He packed up his goods rather early and left.

Heroes All.

The splendid heroism of James Root and William Best, the two engineers who ran trains of refugees out of the Minnesota forest fires from Hinckley, will long stir the blood of men wherever their story is told.

But the best and noblest thing about their bravery is that it is the common possession of men in their work. This country has in service to-day on its railroads about 80,000 locomotives. No one who knows many of the 80,000 men daily on the footboards of these locomotives will doubt for an instant that almost any two men among them, chosen by lot, would have done what was done by these men, whose bravery was noted yesterday by every London paper.

Magnificent as their courage was—daring such as in other lands wins crosses and pensions and life-long honor—it is more magnificent still that the self-respect and training of popular self-government has so raised the general level of laboring men that an army of possible heroes hold the levers and handle the shovel on American railroad locomotives ready at an instant's call to match the high bravery shown by William Best and James Root.

Borough Improvements.

Since the pike leading through Milesburg borough has been vacated some decided improvements are noticed. This gave the council control of the streets and they could compel property owners to fix up their walks. A uniform grade has been established and new walks are being laid along the entire thoroughfare. Not only that street but all others as well, there is an indication of improvement of the streets and sidewalks. It is an indication that Milesburg has an active and progressive town council that intends to do its duty by compelling the citizens to fix up and keep their town in good order. Milesburg is nicely located, has beautiful surroundings and if local pride continues to act as during the past season it will be the pride of the Bald Eagle valley.

—The famous musical composers have taken a hint from their literary brethren, and are securing an advance magazine publication for their compositions just as the authors publish their novels in serial form. The Ladies Home Journal, which was practically the first magazine to offer this outlet to composers of repute, finds all the musical men rallying to it, Sir Arthur Sullivan announcing that the new song which he has just finished will be published in that magazine. Patti's veteran conductor, Ardi ti, has given his new waltz to the Journal, while Reginald de Koven's new song goes also to the same periodical. Strauss has sent his new waltz to the editor, Sousa a new march, and Mascagni, of "Cavalleria Rusticana" fame, is writing a piano score.

VICTIMS OF THE FIRE.

More Bodies Found and Identified—600 Refugees at Duluth.

Duluth, Sept. 5.—About 600 people from the burned district are now listed here, and it is estimated that from $350,000 to $400,000 will be required to keep the survivors of the fires until they can get some returns from their farms next summer. At Marengo, 90 miles east of here, the bodies of six persons were found. In a district five miles square in Marengo, 32 homesteaders lost everything, and but three houses remain. Sanborn is full of refugees who had to run for their lives and saved only the clothing they wore. There were about twelve or fifteen homesteaders between Sanborn and Bibon that were burned out and lost everything they had.

The bodies of the eight people who lost their lives at High Bridge have been identified as follows: Frank Bargron, Maggie Bargron, Isaac Tawney, Mrs. Tawney, Elsie Tawney, Walter Graft, William Tawney, Jessie Tawney.

One boy is reported burned to death from the township of Nordland. There is not one foot of unburned land from Aitkin to Mille Lacs Lake, a distance of 20 miles south, while the burned district north and south through the pine woods is unknown, but settlers for fifty miles report fires beyond them and burning fiercely.

Fisher Meadow, near Estella, a small settlement, was wiped out to-day.

Bailey's exploring party report that they have discovered 23 bodies of settlers, scattered over a wide extent of country. Most of them were identified. They were all buried without even a box. Six children and two women who were in a destitute condition, were found and are being brought in. On the train are also Mrs. Billedeux and Mrs. Lefebvre, each with two children, all of whom were picked up at Sandstone. The section foreman has discovered two families north of Partridge in great destitution, and these were brought in on the train which arrived at midnight.

What We See.

We see that the days are growing shorter:—

That the sun has written his name on the earth this year in letters of fire;—

That cool days will be welcomed gladly;—

That there is blessing in change;—

That anything after awhile gets monotonous;—

That even joy wears itself out;—

That the war between Japan and China may involve other nations;—

That the interests of the whole world are affected to-day by war among barbarians;—

That the benefits of war are slight compared with the injuries;—

That the tariff bill has passed and is now law;—

That we may now look for political peace for a few months;—

That the trusts have had their own way in fixing the schedule of duties;—

That honesty is king;—

That honesty is not yet in a majority in the senate or the house;—

That our national legislators do not know how to vote for the best interests of the people;—

That they do know how to vote for their own best interests;—

That this is not what men are elected for;—

That Ireland is not the only place where tenants are evicted;—

That in New York city, 43,087 families were ejected during 1893;—

That this shows that business methods are similar the world over;—

That the United States has 3,804 public libraries;—

That these libraries contain nearly 30,000,000 bound volumes;—

That the American people are readers of papers as well as of books;—

That it is necessary to be a good digester of what one reads as well as a good reader;—

That there is too much indiscriminate reading among the people;—

That the first brewery on this continent was established in 1644, on Manhattan Island;—

That we have now in the United States 1,930 breweries and 4,791 distilleries;—

That a period of great religious activity is prophesied;—

That when people are prosperous they go to the theatre; and when they are not, they go to the church;—

That it requires intelligence and courage to make a success of life;—

That money is still hard to get;—

PICKING UP THE DEAD.

Six Hundred and Fifty Persons Are Known to be Lost.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 4.—The death toll resulting from the forest fires increases, and now over 650 are known to be lost, the greater part women and children. The greatest percentage of deaths occurred among settlers, where whole families were swept out of existence in the twinkling of an eye. Not in any one direction, but in every part of the fire swept district the finding of bodies hourly swells the list. At an early hour this morning a party of 30 experienced woodsmen left on a special conveyance to scour the woods for bodies of settlers in out of the way cabins and clearings. They are expected to bring back appalling reports.

In a stretch of territory twenty-six miles long and from one to fifteen miles wide, not a single human habitation has been left standing except a section house at Miller, and in every part of the track of the flames bodies of men, women, children, horses and cattle were found. The position of everybody found outside of Hinckley shows that shelter of some kind was sought by the agonized sufferers, and the dead were found in holes behind overturned stumps, trees, marshy depressions, and in every water course.

S. A. Thompson, who went on the burial train yesterday, has returned. All the way down the trainmen almost had to throw people off who wished to go along and take in the grave sights. At Finlayson a party, headed by Ed Finlayson, dropped off and went east several miles, visiting, among other places, the Belleau farm, where the bodies of three children were found. The rest of the family had gone to Sandstone. A party, headed by Fred Reynolds, dropped off near Skunk lake and got the bodies of Mrs. Lind and five children, whose home was half a mile west of the track. The train picked up the bodies of Irttel and Elder, two operators of the North American Telegraph company, who had been sent out to the scene of the trouble. The train picked up ten bodies beside that of General Passenger Agent Bowley, of the Winnipeg, near the track. It was learned that Pine Lake, a settlement seven miles west of Finlayson, was untouched, but nothing has been heard of Sand Lake, a settlement away from the railroad, and it is feared that it has gone up in smoke. Another body was discovered in the mud at the edge of skunk lake, but it could not be gotten out.

Promoting Southern Development.

The convention of Southern business men now in session at Washington devising ways and means to promote the development of the unrivaled resources of the South is a notable gathering. Composed in part of prominent and well known business men of the South and in part of accredited representatives of the various commercial bodies of that section, its avowed object is to provide means for facilitating combinations of capital and energy to develop the natural resources of the South. The South wants money and energetic business men to develop its forests, fields, mines and manufacturing, and the convention at Willard's Hotel will consider ways and means of securing both.

So far as natural wealth is concerned the South at present has the call for a place for profitable investment. The old slave system only concerned itself with agriculture, leaving the forests of valuable timber to grow, the coal and iron ore untouched and the splendid water power which might have driven thousands of busy factories to go to waste. The overthrow of slavery, of a result of the war, impoverished the South, leaving it without capital to open mines and erect factories. The reconstruction period, with its swarm of adventurous carpet-baggers, bent on political power and plunder, caused the natives of the South to distrust all Yankees, while the social and financial conditions in that section repelled Northern men of character and with capital to invest from becoming either residents or investors.

Happily these antagonistic conditions have in a large measure disappeared with the lapse of time. The opportunities for immigration and investment in the West are becoming more restricted every year and Northern capitalists are looking more favorably upon Southern investments than at any period since the close of the civil war. If Southern business men will themselves devise a way by which careful investigation of proposed investments can be speedily and cheaply made and have some defects in Southern legislation regarding the collection of debts remedied, and are energetic enough themselves to place before Northern investors exhibits of Southern products of various kinds, Northern capital and Northern immigration will flow southward in a much greater volume than ever before.

Coffee May Get Cheaper.

Coffee is a universal habit, this country using 4,000,000 bags and Europe 5,000,000. For some time coffee has been high in price and this has led to overproduction, till now the householder has a prospect of having his Mocha cheaper than for years. It is estimated that this year's yield of coffee will be 2,000,000 bags more than the great crop of 1891-92. The talk in the New York coffee exchange, based on foreign reports, is to the effect that low prices for the berry will soon rule.

Spreading Small-Pox.

Milwaukee has an epidemic of small-pox on its hands and all efforts thus far made to suppress it have proved futile. When the health officers tried to enforce city ordinances and send patients to the hospital or quarantine them in their homes riots broke out and the authorities were defied. The police were then called in, but were met by a mob of women armed with base ball bats, potato mashers, cayenne pepper, hot water and salt, and when these weapons gave out an injunction from the courts was served upon the officers forbidding them from removing a patient from his home, and the authorities were compelled temporarily to abandon the contest.

This is one way to all in spreading small-pox, and that it is effective is shown by the increase in cases and deaths daily bulletined in Milwaukee. Another way to spread the disease is by opposing vaccination, as has been done in Brooklyn, N. Y. Some residents of that city, backed up by the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination League, refused to permit their children to be vaccinated, and when they were refused admission to the public schools the case was carried into the courts, and the validity of the law of the State insisting upon the vaccination of all public school children was questioned. Judge Bartlett has, however, just decided that the law is constitutional. He held that a public school education is a privilege which the State confers upon its citizens and that those who avail themselves of it must conform to the regulations made by the State. This decision is in conformity with one given by a California court on a similar question and it will settle the controversy in Brooklyn unless the case is appealed to a higher court.

There is no disease that people dread more than small-pox and yet many will expose themselves to it in the most reckless manner if it is to gratify a prejudice or from ignorance as to the plain laws of health. The former is the case in Brooklyn and the latter in Milwaukee, and as a result of the two a number of cities are suffering a small-pox epidemic. The prejudice some people have against vaccination is probably proof against argument or statistics, but the ignorant opposition to the removal of patients can be met by the dissemination of information on the subject. Some of this opposition has arisen from the failure of health authorities to provide adequate accommodations for treating small-pox patients. This cause can be easily removed by a little foresight. If it is not done some other cities may find themselves in as embarrassing a situation as Milwaukee is with its business and reputation greatly injured.

—Isaac Strunk who about a year ago purchased the Gordon mill property at Hecla, for $4000, a short time ago sold the property to the Central Pennsylvania R. R. Co., for $3000. The company has established the Hecla park on the property, and it is surmised will use the mill building for repair shops.

THE HARRISBURG MEETING.

Republican State League Convention will Convene There Today.

Harrisburg, Pa., September 4.—A couple thousand enthusiastic republicans have taken possession of Harrisburg and will make the state league convention tomorrow an exceedingly spirited affair. General D. H. Hastings arrived at 10:20 tonight and was met by a thousand cheering men at the station. He was driven to the Lochiel hotel and held a short reception. During his stay he will be the guest of County Chairman Weiss. Tomorrow evening he will open the campaign with a stirring speech at a mass meeting to be held at the opera house. All the state candidates are expected.

The hotels are crowded to-night and the incoming trains are bringing more. The W. B. Ahern association arrived in force at 6 o'clock this evening and gave a parade. About 200 clubs are represented by over 500 delegates. The convention will be called to order at 10 o'clock. Major Everett Warren, of Scranton, will be elected president of the league and recording secretary and treasurer will be re-elected. Vice presidents will be selected from different parts of the state.

A Parched And Burning Land.

Forest fires are unhappily all too frequent in this country. We are accustomed to the recital of losses running up into the millions due to the spread of a hunter's camp fire, or perhaps to a locomotive spark falling on the sun-parched underbrush in a season of prolonged drought. From Michigan and Wisconsin and from the mountain of Pennsylvania come tales of burning forests with the loss of much valuable property. The whole land is filled with the smoke of their burnings and the sun is robbed of its brightness and is converted by the haze into a ball of fire long before its setting.

In Minnesota the fire is not content with carrying along with it blazing forests, lumber mills, logging camps and farm houses. Several thriving villages have been swept away. A number of trains of cars, both freight and passenger, proved too slow for the speed of the fire, and many valuable lives have fallen before its progress. The loss of life has run into the hundreds, and perhaps into the thousands, and the fate of the survivors, stripped of all their earthly possessions, is pitiable in the extreme. They are in urgent need of assistance, and it should not be delayed.

The unnecessary destruction of forest trees is always to be deplored, but every forest settlement should have a belt of timbered land between it and the forest about it. The latter, especially if a pine forest, is always in danger of being swept at certain periods by an uncontrollable conflagration. An ordinary logging camp or even a forest village, with its too limited area of cleared space, offers no barrier to such a fire, but rather adds more fuel to the flames. This lesson was taught in 1871 when upwards of 2000 people perished in the forest fires which in that dry year swept the pine woods of Michigan and Wisconsin. We have a similar season of protracted drought, with every pine or hemlock forest highly inflammable, and even the deciduous woods, with the dry underbrush and premature falling of leaves are little better off.

If this awful drought is protracted much longer the fires of the last week are only the beginning of fearful destruction. Happily the parents indicate a general rain. May it come, and come soon; a parched and withered, fire swept and fire threatened land hopes and prays for rain.

A Stain Upon Tennessee.

The recent lynching of six negroes in the State of Tennessee, who had been arrested on a suspicion of burning barns in their neighborhood, is a reproach upon the people and authority of that State that can be wiped out only by the prompt punishment of the murderers.

While all considerate people of every section condemn a resort to lynch law, there has been much tolerance in both sections for the resort to it when colored men have criminally assaulted white women. In several of the Northern States like offenses have recently been punished in the same fearful way, but the summary execution of these six colored men, whose guilt was not established, but were only suspected of having participated in the burning of property, has not a single attribute to excuse the murderous action of the mob. It is quite possible that the negroes who were executed were guiltless of the crime charged against them; it is not pretended that there was any conclusive evidence of their guilt, and even if undoubtedly guilty the law would have punished them amply for their offense.

The authorities of the State of Tennessee have a plain, imperative duty to perform. They should at once ascertain and arrest the men who participated in this shocking murder, and they should be heartily sustained by the intelligent citizens of the State of every faith. Only by the prompt arrest and punishment of these guilty men can the State of Tennessee be relieved of the fearful stain that has been put upon it by its own people, and every good citizen should make common cause to bring the murderers to justice.

Judge Long's Pension Case.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Judge Charles D. Long, of the Michigan supreme court, today filed a replication in the supreme court of the district of Columbia to the answers of Commissioner of Pensions Lochren and Secretary Hoke Smith in the matter of the application of Judge Long for a mandamus to compel the commissioner to restore his pension to the former rating of $72 a month instead of the $50 a month he now receives. The replication of Judge Long is in the nature of a general denial of the answer made by the defendant, and prays that the issue of fact be determined by the court or a jury. This famous pension case will be heard for final argument before Judge Cole tomorrow.

DEBS AND COMPANY.

The Contempt Cases are now up before the United States Court.

Chicago, September 5.—The contempt cases against Eugene V. Debs, George W. Howard, Sylvester Kelher, T. W. Rogers, James Hogan, W. E. Burns, Leroy M. Godwin, J. Elliot and J. E. McVein, directors of the American Railway union, came up in the United States court this morning before Judge Woods. The defendants are accused of violating the injunction issued by Judge Woods and Grosscup during the recent strike, which restrained the American Railway union and all others from any interference with the mails or with inter-state commerce. It is alleged particularly in the cases of the officers of the union that the injunction was repeatedly violated by sending telegraphic orders to strike and in other ways. All of the defendants filed answers, in which they denied specifically the charges preferred. Over 100 witnesses have been subpoenaed by the government and the array of legal talent on both sides is a brilliant one.

At the opening of court this morning Attorney Erwin for the defendants announced that all were in court with the exception of President Debs, who was declared to be ill in this city. The court decided that Mr. Debs's presence was not necessary. Attorney Gregory moved for a trial by jury, but Judge Woods denied it on the grounds that this was not a criminal proceeding. The court decided that all of the cases should be tried as one and the cases of the Santa Fe should go along with the government, and witnesses for one be considered as witnesses for both.

The first witness called was Edwin M. Mulford, manager of the Western Union company. He was asked to produce certain telegrams in court, but refused to do so until the court ruled on it. The court ruled that they must be produced. Then a number of objections were made by the counsel for the defense on technical points. They fought every step of the way and it was evident that there would be a bitterly contested legal battle. Finally the witness was permitted to read telegrams which passed between Debs and Phelan. Objections were offered to all telegrams on the ground that they were not sufficiently identified.

Called on to Resign.

Washington, September 5.—Secretary Carlisle to-day called for the resignations of Peter S. Garretson, of New Jersey; James P. Low, of Massachusetts; and Frank Milliken, of Maine, all chiefs of divisions in the architect's office, treasury department. Messrs. Leader, Harrington, Latham and Beatty, also chiefs of divisions in the treasury department, who resigned by request some months ago but have been continued, have been notified that their services would not be required after October 1. The places of this last batch will be filled by putting in chiefs of divisions in the comptroller's office, employed by Secretary Carlisle, who have been legislated out of office by the provisions of the Treasury treasury reorganization bill, which takes effect October 1.

Dunnstown Happy.

Lock Haven, Pa., September 5.—The centennial celebration held in Dunnstown a village of this county, today was attended by all the military and secret societies of this city. The centennial oration was delivered by T. C. Hippie, Esq. It is estimated that there were 5,000 strangers in the village. Dunnstown was laid out in 1704 by William Dunn and the town twice required to be a county seat, first of Lycoming county and later of Clinton.

It is among the oldest regularly laid out towns along the west branch and in its early history was an important point.

That Reading Readjustment.

New York, Sept. 5.—It is understood that a part of the new Reading plan is that the holders of the floating debt extend their loans on the present security for 20 years, provided that income holders take $4,000,000 of the present collateral trust bonds at par, the money to be used in paying off receiver's certificates. The general mortgage bondholders shall agree to sell their coupons for five years to a syndicate, the proceeds to be used by the company if necessary. The stock is to pay a small assessment. It is said that the plan may be announced next week.

The Fair Ophelia.

"I thought thy bride-bed to have decked, sweet maid, And not have strewed thy grave."

The Danish queen was not an exemplary wife, but was doubtless sincere in her grief at Ophelia's death. In every land we see the purest and sweetest of Eve's daughters gathered to early graves. A perfect cure for female complaints, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a medicine beyond all praise, which has saved many a young life threatened by the insidious approach of disease. For chronic female derangements, weak back, lassitude, nervousness and poor appetite, it is without an equal; a generous tonic, a safe nerve, purely vegetable and warranted to give satisfaction, or the price ($1.00) refunded. This guarantee is always adhered to. Of druggists.

May Be Cholera.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 5.—John P. Walther was taken from an immigrant train to-day suffering with what appeared to be a well-developed case of cholera. He was isolated in a house outside of the city limits and the other occupants of the car locked in the coach and forwarded to Pittsburgh. The unfortunate man died in great agony this evening.

Walther and his fellow-passengers arrived in New York yesterday on the North German steamer Elbe from Bremen. One of the passengers says Walther was attacked with severe pains and vomiting two days before the vessel arrived, but that the ship's surgeon gave him medicine which braced him up sufficiently to pass inspection at New York.

The authorities telegraphed the Pittsburgh officials to intercept and quarantine the car.

City Health Officer Duke and Dr. Orr, who have been through an epidemic of cholera, are positive that Walther's was a bona fide case of cholera, but are undecided as to whether it was of sporadic or Asiatic nature. There is great excitement in Cumberland to-night over the discovery.

A Good Indication.

Medical practitioners of prominence are prescribing for the cure of diseases springing from derangement of the digestive organs, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. This professional endorsement is justified by the fact that no other preparation has been found so efficacious in this class of disorders, even in the most advanced and severe cases. It has cured gravel in the kidneys, stone in the bladder, and inflammation of the kidneys, where all other medicines had failed. It can be purchased of any druggist. A book is wrapped about each bottle, explaining its use.

Looks Bad for Green.

Williamsport, Sept. 5.—In the De La Green bank case to-day the prosecution presented expert testimony to show further the alleged alterations in the accounts. Testimony was also produced to show that Green, while bank examiner, had fixed up his reports to the comptroller of the currency to correspond with the altered entries in the books. A number of experts in handwriting were called to prove that the false entries had been made by the defendant. The defense opened this afternoon, but did not offer any testimony as needed books were not on hand. At the request of council the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

The Pythian Knights.

Washington, Sept. 5.—At the meeting of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias to-day the report of the committee on the state of the order to which was referred the future eligibility for membership of those engaged in the liquor business recommended that such persons hereafter be excluded from membership. A vote was taken on this question and, while not final, was in favor of the adoption of the recommendation of the committee. The matter will come up for consideration at to-morrow's session and it is said that it will be formally adopted.

"I had a poor appetite, that tired feeling and was run down, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has done me a great deal of good. I have a better appetite and do not feel tired. I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent spring or fall medicine to keep the blood in order. Myself and three daughters have taken over six bottles, and it has done us much good. We do not now have to call upon a doctor, as formerly, in the spring time, and I can say that Hood's Sarsaparilla is all that is claimed for it. I most heartily recommend it, and shall always keep it in my house." ALBERT KINSEY, Auburn, Pa.

OF PUBLIC INTEREST.

A Matter Which is Exciting Much Talk.

IT CONCERNS A WELL-KNOWN AND PROMINENT FAMILY.

The Wife of an Honored and Respected Public Man Writes a Letter.

G. A. Williamson, Esq., has for thirty-five years been City Recorder of Deeds, of Providence, R. I. During all this time he and his family have occupied a very prominent position in Providence where they are held in the utmost regard and esteem by everybody. They reside at 8 Bradford Street.

Mrs. Williamson has for a long time been a great sufferer. She has lately been cured of complaints by a most remarkable remedy and her love for her fellow-being is such that she writes the following letter telling them just what to do to be well and strong:

"For some time I had been troubled with numbness of my hands and arms. It was very distressing and a constant annoyance to me. My nervous system was badly affected. I was unable to sleep, getting but very little rest at night. I suffered from indigestion and my appetite was very poor. I learned of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and hearing it most highly spoken of, determined to use it. It had helped so many despairing sufferers I believed it would help me. After taking the second bottle I noticed a marked improvement and I continued to steadily gain in all respects. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all sufferers.

No wonder everybody is taking this remarkable medicine for it is a known fact that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy always cures. If you have any such troubles, if your health is not exactly what it should be, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will make you well. It is the discovery of Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Don't neglect your health but take his wonderful medicine now.

We have received the eighth issue of the Newspaper Manual of Remington Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and New York, N. Y.

The contents include complete lists of newspapers in the United States and Canada, with their days of issue, politics and circulations, and properly classified lists of the principal Dailies and Weeklies, and the best Agricultural, Religious, scientific and Trade publications and leading Magazines. All the lists are catalogued by towns in alphabetical order, and in the general list the population is given of each town and of the country in which it is located.

The Manual contains a vast quantity of valuable information, concisely arranged, and is handsomely and substantially bound. As a book of reference it must prove invaluable in every business office, as well as to every one doing business as an advertiser.

Sent by express, prepaid, on receipt of $3.00.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Mr. Debs is reported to have said that he would never participate in another strike. We hope he has been reported correctly. The strike is futile. It is disastrous to all concerned, and the great public is always concerned. The ballot-box is the great centre around which all must rally and there settle these important questions. By the ballot we can obtain justice as an abstract principle and we can enforce it in practical life. There is no other way. We hope every working man will soon understand this great fact,—by the ballot ye may be saved.—[The Progressive Age.

Another New Counterfeit.
A new counterfeit $5 national bank note has been discovered by the national bank redemption agency of the treasury department at Washington. It is on the commercial national bank of Providence, R. I., and of the series of 1882, Garfield head, check letter A, charter number 1319, bank number 20650, treasury number N857513, W. S. Rosecrans register, C. N. Jordan treasurer. It is a photographic production, the coloring of the numbers, seal and scroll work being applied with pen and brush in a bungling manner, the black underneath being easily discernible, giving the note a dirty appearance. The paper is bad.

All Broken Down

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
Dr. G. C. Osmond,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Kitchener,

If you want to see it before accepting our offer, a sample sheet will be sent for 10 cents.

THE BOOK ON HYPNOTISM is a complete exposition of the wonderful and mysterious sciences of Mesmerism, Hypnotism, Clairvoyance and Mind Reading, and explains the secrets of these peculiar sciences so clearly and forcibly that those things which to most people have appeared strange, sure, mysterious and supernatural, are made as plain as the light of day.

THE 75 COMPLETE STORIES, neatly bound, are a collection of the most excellent and absorbing stories of love, heroism and exciting adventures.

Was so much good value ever offered anywhere for so small a sum? Here you have a supply of fresh and splendid music for a year, and an attractive supply of tip-top reading for the same period, all for the small sum of 50 cents, and then you may be one of those who will receive the watches as well. This is an important thing for you to remember. We are anxious to double our subscription list within 60 days, and we have realized that a supreme effort is required. In view of the dullness of the times, if you do not already grasp the magnitude of our offer, please read it again and "take it in." Let us hear from you at once. If you can get a club of thirty persons to join in answering this advertisement you thereby make sure of the Watch, as one of the latter is presented to the sender of each thirty-third answer or subscription. The thirty subscriptions can all be sent in one letter to us. Each subscriber in such a club of course receives each and every one of the premiums mentioned above.

You need not cut out this advertisement. Simply state that you accept our offer and enclose 50 cents. Save this advertisement as it is our contract with you, which we will carry out in every particular.

Reader, we ask you to favor us with your own immediate response. Your particular individual support is worth to us more than any other.

THEIR FIRST ANNUAL MEET.

Shaeffer Wins Four Bicycle Races on Saturday.

In connection with the Veteran's picnic the Bellefonte Wheelmen held their first annual meet at Hunter's Park Saturday afternoon, September 1st, at 2 o'clock. About four hundred persons were present to witness the exciting sport and the events and results are given below, the names of those entered in each race appearing in the order in which they finished the race.

The list of entries were E. Andrews, of Williamsport; Claude Smith, of Milesburg; Lester Shaeffer, J. M. Laurie, Geo. Williams, Lewis Wetzel, Woods Sebring and Ben. Bradley, of Bellefonte.

The officers for the day were judge, R. F. Hunter; referee, C. McMahon, of Altoona, an old L. A. W. man; timers, Geo. T. Bush and Charles F. Richards; starter, John S. Waite; announcer, J. R. Hughes.

One mile novice—Laurie, Sebring and Bradley.

One-fourth mile open—Shaeffer, Andrews, Williams, Smith and Sebring.

Two mile open—Andrews, Wetzel, Sebring, Shaeffer. (The latter fell in this race and did not finish, or he would have won.)

One mile Centre County Championship—Shaeffer, Williams, Wetzel and Laurie.

One-half mile open—Shaeffer, Andrews and Williams.

Five mile open—Shaeffer, Andrews and Wetzel.

As will be seen from the above Shaeffer won four out of the six races, and would have won the fifth only for his mishap. The first he could not enter. On the track he rode a "Union Special," very light, manufactured by the Union Cycle Co., of Boston, Mass. The Union wheels for racing have always been considered equal to the best, but Shaeffer's record on Saturday places them even ahead of all others.

The prizes won were as follows: Shaeffer, a bicycle lamp, silver cup, gold cup and diamond stud. Laurie, prize gold medal. Andrews, diamond pin, bicycle shoes, sleeve buttons and a gold match box. Sebring, prize gold medal. Wetzel, sweater and silver match box. Williams, cyclometer. All in all, the races were a success and the Bellefonte Wheelmen are to be congratulated on their first meet.

Patent Sold.

About a year ago Mr. Wm. R. Jenkins invented an improved piece of machinery for manufacturing garden rakes, shovels, etc. It was a drop forge that in one operation did the work completely and perfectly.

THE WAY THEY'RE PUT UP, in sealed glass vials, is enough in itself to recommend Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. It keeps them always fresh and reliable. You can't be sure of the big, old-fashioned pills in wooden or pasteboard boxes.

But these little Pellets are better at every point. By their tonic or strengthening effect on the lining membranes of the intestines, they increase the natural action of the bowels, and permanently cure Jaundice, Bileousness, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, and consequent stupor or drowsiness.

There's no disturbance, or reaction afterward, and their help lasts.

One tiny granule is a gentle laxative; three are cathartic.

They're the smallest in size, the easiest to take, and the easiest in the way they act. They're the cheapest, too, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

Nothing else can be "just as good." Tricky dealers always have things to urge upon you which are better for them to sell, but bad for you to buy.

Use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

ly. J. Fearon Mann was associated with Mr. Jenkins in the invention and a complete machine was equipped and put in operation out at the axeworks at Axeman, and tests made proved all that was expected.

Last week the invention was sold to a syndicate of Pittsburg implement manufacturers who paid a handsome sum for the same. Mr. Jenkins is out of town at present and nothing further could be learned of the transaction.

It is a misfortune that the invention was not kept in Bellefonte and a thriving manufacturing establishment started here.

The Poets Soliloquy.

"Kiss" rhymes to "bliss," in fact as well as verse, And "fill with 'pill,' and 'worse' with 'hearse'; In fact and verse, we find "complete recovery."

Rhymes best with "Golden Medical Discovery." For driving out scrofulous and all other taints of the blood, fortifying the constitution against lung-scrofula or consumption, for strengthening the digestive organs and invigorating the entire system by sending streams of pure blood through all the veins—there is nothing equal to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the only guaranteed Blood, Liver and Lung Remedy sold.

Death of John Bottorff.

In the death of John Bottorff, the seventh ward loses one of its best known and most esteemed residents. Mr. Bottorff sustained a paralytic stroke about seven years ago, from which he never recovered, and had been failing gradually since that time. This with a complication of diseases, led to his death at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at his home on Twenty-third street between Lincoln and Columbus avenues.

The deceased was born in Centre county in 1834, his age being therefore 60 years. For the past thirteen years he had been a resident of this place, residing in the seventh ward section. By occupation he was a blacksmith but his infirmities incapacitated him for hard work some years ago. He was the first postmaster at East Tyrone, having held that office for several years. Mr. Bottorff was a kind and gentle hearted man who was universally liked, his honest and upright character winning and keeping friends wherever he made acquaintance. He was a devout Christian, having been numbered among the Christ's followers forty years, and during his residence here he held membership in the Second Methodist church. He was a member of the Odd Fellows' lodge at Houtzdale.

Mr. Bottorff's wife's maiden name was Jane E. Bateman. He is survived by the following children: Mrs. Clara A. Ewing, of Curwensville; Thomas P. of Chesterfield; William, of Houtzdale; Mrs. Anna Stiney, of Curwensville; Mrs. Bertha Snyder, Mrs. Phoebe Miller and Foster R. Bottorff, of Tyrone. Mrs. Martha Ray, of Lemont, is a surviving sister, and four half sisters and four half brothers also survive him.

The funeral services will be conducted by Rev. V. T. Rue in the Second Methodist church at 10.30 o'clock Sunday morning. Interment in Tyrone cemetery.—Saturday's Tyrone Herald.

Report of the Grand Jury.

To the Honorable, the Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace in and for the County of Centre, August Sessions, 1894:

The Grand Inquest of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania inquiring for the county in all matters relating to the same, do respectfully report.

That they have acted upon forty Bills of Indictment, of which thirty-two were found true bills and eight ignored. Also approved two petitions for county bridges.

We beg leave further to report, that we have visited and inspected the county buildings and our observations prompt the following suggestion: At the county jail, the bath room needs repairing and cleaning. The inside of jail we find in a good, neat and clean condition; the outside of dwelling portion needs painting, and stone work painting the roof should be repaired, and we would also recommend that a new range be placed in the kitchen.

At the court house, we recommend that an addition of twenty-four feet be added to rear end of the Court House for the purpose of enlarging the Grand Jury room and witness room. We would further recommend that an office for the use of the Sheriff be fitted up in the Court House.

The unsightly barb-wire fence surrounding the Park between the court house and jail should be removed. From the appearance of the ceiling in the court room the roof of the building is in bad condition and should be repaired immediately.

We respectfully tender our thanks to the Honorable Judges, and District Attorney for their courtesy and assistance rendered us during our deliberations.

A Vision of WONDERLAND!

The Little Brownies, those mischievous but kindly children immortalized in nursery tales, have been recently reported as taking a tour of the wild and picturesque scenery of America. The idea was long delayed, and undoubtedly came to them through a chance examination of the most wonderful and beautiful publication of the age, the magnificent pictographic scenic serial, Entitled:

Glimpses of America,

Which the REPUBLICAN is now distributing among its patrons.

It is a sad commentary upon popular taste that Americans know less about the scenery of their own country than that of European lands, probably because travel in the far West has not been attended with such comforts as journeys through the old countries. But no reason is longer available to excuse ignorance of the INCOMPARABLE, THE IMPRESSIVE, THE TRULY MARVELOUS SCENERY of our wondrously diversified country, because "Glimpses of America" is a photographic album, comprising the grandest pictures of the most sublime objects that the human eye beheld.

They are not wood-cuts, or sketches, but large and perfect photographs of actual scenes, bewilderingly magnificent, imposing sights of the Rocky Mountains, the peaks, canons, waterfalls, valleys, lakes and canyons of that great continental range, and of equally wonderful views on the great plains, Pueblo villages, burning deserts, immense forests, marvels of the Yosemite; picture-que, but almost inaccessible regions of the Northwest; of Alaska's glaciers and Indian towns; of the Yellowstone Park Geysers and curiosities; of Superior's Sculptured shores and Wisconsin's romantic delta; of Canada and the elevages, cascades, whirlpools and deep forests of the Northeast; of Eastern mountains, frothy streams, dashing rivers, and great precipices; of dreamy languorous scenes in the land of the flamingo, where the mocking-bird hides in the perfume-laden snow of the orange tree, and the sun kisses the banana into golden fruitage.

Every section of America is represented in this complete collection of photographs, and the pictures, instead of being imperfectly and clumsily described in brief foot notes, as in other serials, are incorporated in the text, there being much space devoted to reading matter in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," as to illustrations. It is therefore a pictorial history of the charming scenery of our country, the most gorgeous, complete and eloquent that was ever prepared.

And OH, The Cameragraphs

No one ever before saw such marvelous heliotype jewels as these

They are specimens of the perfected process of photographing in natural colors—grand, glorious and beautiful beyond imagination. A series of these marvelous pictographic productions appear in "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA," and they are to be seen in no other publication, the cost being too great as yet to admit of common use.

You can get "GLIMPSES OF AMERICA" only through the REPUBLICAN, but upon the following remarkable generous conditions: Send or bring to this office one coupon clipped from the REPUBLICAN, together with ten cents in coin, and we will deliver you Part I, or any subsequent number that is ready, over our counter, or have the same mailed to your address without further expense. The complete work comprises 32 parts, of 512 pages, 11 x 13 inches in size, and will be embellished with 550 superb photo-engravings. The photographs alone in this remarkable collection, if they were on sale, could not be purchased for less than $500.

Every American who loves his Country should possess a copy.

A Last Tribute.

 Madam, infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mott, of this place, born February 2nd, 1894, died September 2nd, 1894, aged 8 months and 27 days.

I laid my hand upon his brow
 And it was damp and cold;
 His dark gray eyes were closed and dead
 The feeble pulse was cold.
 I gently pressed the little face
 I felt his parting breath;
 I gazed again upon my child
 And asked, "O God, is this death?"
 I held his little body down
 The vital spark had fled.
 I gazed again upon the child
 The lovely, and the dead.

And that dear little face was there,
 So peaceful and so mild;
 I could not wish him back again
 Though he was a darling child.
 Why should we mourn? His little heart
 No longer heaves with pain;
 For sickness can no more distress,
 Nor fever parch again.
 For he now drinks from that pure stream
 Whence living waters flow,
 Escaped from life's dread buffetings
 Its sorrows and its woe.
 And to thy mother's fostering arms
 Thou wast but lent—not given,
 Thou hast thus early found the way
 Into thy native Heaven.
 Now in the bosom of thy God
 From every sorrow free,
 I would not wish thee back again—
 But we will come to thee.

A FRIEND.

A Good Reason Why The National Government Should Own the Railroads.

In these days of trusts and consolidation, strikes and cut-downs between labor and railroads, it may be interesting to note what has been and what can be done to remedy these evils. We never hear of any strikes, cut-downs or labor trouble on the railroads in those countries where the roads are owned and operated by the government, and why? Because the government owns and operates them in the interest of the people.

And in this connection, we may say, there are many evils that would be corrected by the government ownership of these roads. They would be kept in better repair; human life would be safer; sufficient help would be employed to do the work in a safe and careful manner—for the sake of gain men would not be overworked as they often are by corporations; men would not be required to work extra time, as we have all heard time and again of being done by corporation officials to the great danger to the life and limb of the traveler. These considerations together with the question of economy and the fact that strikes would be ended are reasons that should influence every voter in the country to demand that the government should own and control our railroads.

In Australia you can ride a distance of 1,000 miles across the country for $6.50, first class, too; while workmen can ride six miles for 2 cents, twelve miles for 4 cents, thirty miles for 10 cents, etc., and railroad men receive 25 to 30 per cent. more wages for eight hours' work than they are paid in this country for ten hours' toil.

In Victoria, where the above rates prevail, the net incomes from the roads last year were sufficient to pay all the federal taxes.

In Hungary, where the roads are state owned, you can ride six miles for one cent, and since the government has bought the roads wages have doubled. Belgium tells the same story—wages and rates have doubled down one-half and wages doubled. Yet the roads pay a yearly revenue to the government of $4,000,000.

In Germany you can ride our miles for one cent on the government-owned lines. Yet wages are over 120 per cent. higher than when the private corporations owned them, and during the last ten years the net profit have increased 41 per cent. Last year the roads paid the German government a net profit of $25,000,000.

If our government owned the railroads we could go to San Francisco from Bellefonte for $10. Look at the profit! Uncle Sam says the railroads not only cost $275 to transport a loaded postal car from Boston to San Francisco. A passenger car will carry fifty passengers, which, at $10 each, would be $500, or a clear profit of $225 a car; and this, too, after paying 51-2 per cent. on watered stock, which sells at 100 per cent. on the cost of the roads. In view of these facts, is it any wonder that the country who is not in favor of the government-owned railroad? I so, will he tell us why?

Farming on a Large Scale.

An item is going the rounds of the newspapers giving the extensive farm operation of Col. James Young, of Middletown, styling him the "Farmer King of Pennsylvania." The article states that this season he housed crops from ten farms fifty ten barns, and employing thirty-five and forty mules to do the work. This is certainly farming on a large scale, but Centre county must lay claim to having the largest individual operation in Pennsylvania. We refer to the farms of Col. W. Fred Reynolds, of Bellefonte, seventeen in number and all under the highest state of cultivation.

Col. Reynolds takes great interest in agriculture, and gives his personal attention to the workings of these farms, and every thing about them denotes thrift and careful management. His farm houses and barns are models of neatness and convenience and he leads the advance in introducing every new appliance for making the business profitable. His crops are invariably large, but this year particularly so. In gathering and housing them it required the labor of over seventy-five men and one hundred horses, his barns were filled to overflowing and a large quantity of his grain had to be threshed in the field.

The question of "Does farming pay?" has been solved by Colonel Reynolds for by giving the same careful attention to his farms which he does to his other interests he has made them a source of large profit. The writer has visited several of the farms and can testify to the complete system under which they are worked.

The Slave Exodus West.

The foreign labor problem appears to be solving itself in the coke regions where the Hungarian and Polish elements have concluded that farming pays better than strikes. Perhaps in no section of the State has the surplus of foreign labor been more keenly felt than in among the Fayette and Westmoreland coke ovens.

Apart from the fact that the operators have been altogether responsible for repeated importations of Slaves, Hungarians and Poles into this region is the great cost their coming has been to the common treasury of these counties. Spasmodic difference have been the order of the day, while three general strikes in five years have filled the jails and on two occasions drawn to the scene the National Guard to down the insurrectionary spirit and the mobs and to restore the public peace. Every interest and industry has suffered, and principal among the losers have been the operators whose desire for foreign cheap labor was the central cause of the ruin about them.

It has taken years for this foreign element to assume the place of the masters through tactics that paralyzed trade and commerce, and the operators have finally acknowledged the commission of a grave error by joining the movement looking to a general exodus of the strikers.

Now that the Slaves are in process of evolution to Western farming centres it is considered that the irritating labor problem has been met in the best practical way. The Slaves as a farmer will be an entirely different article from the Slave as a miner and striker. Individual responsibility and personal ownership in the things about him must create a great change in his life.

And since the country must keep him it is a wise project that installs him on a farm and bids him grow into useful citizenship from the acres comprising his new fortune. The new exodus will command wide and general interest.

Tall and Short Girls.

Opinion has always been very much divided upon the subject of women's height. The novelists and designers of fashion plates incline to the view that the female form divine should be somewhat of the altitude of a life guardman. Tall women have unquestionably been in the ascendant in more senses than one of late. It has been expected of us to be very much nearer 6 feet than 5, and we have successfully contrived to fulfill this expectation, notwithstanding there is a great deal to be said on the other side.

There are those who will declare that there is more fascination, more charm, more vivacity about a little woman. She is, they will say, more energetic, and beside her the average young man does not feel the drawbacks of early incessant cigarette smoking and the degeneracy of his sex. She can coax and put and flounce into pretty little passions with greater grace than a "daughter of the G. I.," she needs a protecting arm in a crowd, and she does not take up so much room in a railway carriage or dwarf her partners in the ball room.

There never was yet a little woman who could not command attention and lift five times as furiously as a tall one, and no amount of height ever produced more dignity than a small woman can assume on occasion. It is of course by comparison that every thing is thus or thus, and so it is only when judged by the standard of some exceptionally tall sister that a short woman will allow herself to be described. She will always judiciously disclaim a brevity of inches under any circumstances, though no woman ever objected to the epithet, "little woman," used as a term of affection.

Meeting of Pennsylvania Veterans.

Harrisburg, Sept. 4.—The State Veterinary Medical association met, in regular semi-annual session at Chestnut Street hall to-day. Professor Leonard Pearson, of the University of Pennsylvania, occupied the chair and made a brief address. Ten new members were elected and reports were received from the board of trustees, secretary and treasurer. A committee was appointed to secure legislation in behalf of the association. The afternoon was occupied by the reading of several papers. The next meeting will be held in Philadelphia next March.

Mrs. Mary A. Tupper has been released, at Wilton, Me., from the custody of extreme Female Weakness, which kept her a prisoner in bed unable to walk. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made the change. She advises all sick women to take this valuable medicine, and be thankful for their lives, as she is for hers. It costs only a dollar and any druggists, and the result is worth millions.

The Season About Closed.

When the countryman comes to town with his hard earned load of produce, on an autumn day, and keeps turning out continually for the large picnic parties, gaily dressed, riding in fancy coaches and with hearts as light as a feather, it is not much wonder he thinks that all one has to do who lives in a town is to spend money and have a good time. We should not begrudge our children, perhaps, of the enjoyments that come to them but we wonder if so much pleasure has not a tendency to make idle and giddy young men and women. Notwithstanding the hard times this year, there have been more picnics than ever before in one season. These have not been for the poor, who earn one dollar a day and keep a large family, or the kitchen girls, who bake the cakes and prepare the baskets, but they have been for the society folks and the young people generally. What a longing on our part to live a life not fraught with a care or burden. Who would not love to throw off the yoke of business for a single picnic season and live in the atmosphere of pleasure, with a good "pap" to buy the bicycle, pay for carriages and furnish spending money. When we see a gaiety of youth, and gaze upon its manifold pleasures, always basking in the rays of fairy like beauty without a care, we feel impressed with the truth of the lines:

"How lightly falls the foot of time
 That only treads on flowers."

Sick Cattle Elsewhere.

It seems that the dry weather is causing disease among the cattle in other parts of the state as well as this locality. State Secretary Ed. of the agricultural society evidently knew what he was talking about when he expressed a fear of much trouble among cattle throughout the state, and consequent danger from the disease anthrax if the weather continued dry. Referring to an epidemic among cattle herded on the mountains in Clinton county the Lock Haven Express of yesterday states:

Leonard Pearson, of the Veterinary Department University of Pennsylvania arrived at Beech Creek Saturday evening for the purpose of investigating the cattle disease that has prevailed for some time in the "Scotat" region and has caused the death of so many cattle. Yesterday Dr. Pearson and about thirty citizens of Bald Eagle and Beech Creek twps, this county and Liberty twp., Centre county, drove out into the woods where there are upwards of 500 head of cattle herded. Dr. Pearson was driven to this city last night and left on the midnight train. A gentleman from Beech Creek informs the Express that nothing definite will be known regarding the inspection until Dr. Pearson makes his report to the State Board.

The Board of Trade.

On Tuesday evening about twenty members of the Bellefonte Board of Trade met in the court house. President James Harris being absent vice president John Meese president. Secretary Clement Dale read the minutes of the previous meetings which were approved as read.

A communication was read from a party in Tyrone who wants to come to Bellefonte and organize a stock company and start a manufacturing establishment for the manufacture of children's coats, etc., but as the gentleman in question has no financial status, the communication was laid on the table.

Another communication received from T. H. Harmon, of Lock Haven, was laid upon the table, as it was considered of no use now or in the future.

The Finance committee reported one additional new member since last meeting night.

In answer to a question of a member the Secretary stated that there was a balance of about $300.00 in the treasury. There being no other business to transact the Board proceeded with the election of officers for the ensuing year, with the following result:

Labor Day in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 3.—The stock and other exchanges were closed to-day, but many of the business houses which observed Saturday as Labor Day were open for business as usual. The Pennsylvania legislature fixed it on the first day of September as the day for labor's outing instead of the first Monday in other states. About 500 workmen, the majority of them wearing the red badge of the socialist labor party, left the labor union, the headquarters of the United German trades, this morning and proceeded to Washington park, where a monster picnic and Labor Day demonstration was held. The demonstration was under the auspices of the United German trades, Philadelphia's teutonic central labor union. Outside of the demonstration of the United German trades, the veterans of the regular army held a celebration at Rising Sun park, at which drill were given, as well as racing, dancing and athletic sports. Before going to the park a street parade was made.

—Philip Gramley, a well known resident of East Sugar Valley, fell over dead while in his yard on Monday. Apoplexy was the cause of death. He was over 65 years old and leaves a wife and three grown daughters.

Professor Robb Married.

From the Williamsport Sun and Banner of September 3: Professor George D. Robb formerly assistant principal of the Williamsport high school, was married last Tuesday evening to Miss Cora Kline, of Howard. Only a few members of each family were present, and they had started on their wedding trip before any of their friends knew anything about the wedding. They will go to housekeeping in Altoona, where Mr. Robb is principal of the high school. He was one of the favorite teachers when here.

THE VETERAN'S PICNIC.

A Full Report of Their Reunion at Hunter's Park on Saturday.

The Veteran Club of Centre county held their annual reunion at Hunter's Park on Saturday, September 1st, 1894. As usual, an immense crowd of people were present—it seemed as if all Centre county had turned out to do honor to the old soldier. As it was a basket picnic everyone went provided with their own dinner, but if a person was so unfortunate as to go unprepared there was no lack of invitations to share the hospitality of those more fortunate.

The business meeting of the Club was called to order at 1 o'clock by the president, Gen. James A. Beaver, who at once appointed the following committees:

On officers for ensuing year—S. H. Williams, chairman; Wm. E. Miller, Geo. Taylor, C. Dale, Jr., A. V. Miller, Geo. Martz, W. H. Fry, Andrew Gregg, J. I. Curtin, D. Burrell, M. M. Musser, W. J. Thompson, W. S. Williams, S. H. Bennison, Simon Sellers, Geo. Long, W. E. Tate, J. A. Daily, James Kribbs, J. G. Heberling and D. F. Fortney.

On place of meeting for next year—Dr. T. S. Christ, chairman; W. H. Musser, H. C. Holter, Wm. Resides, W. C. Van Valin, W. C. Patterson, Lot Struble, J. D. Long, John W. Stuart, Wm. Grenoble, Simon Bathgate, Geo. Roal, J. I. Condo and C. P. Stonerode.

After music by the band the committee made their report.

The committee on officers named the following, who were unanimously elected: President—Gen. James A. Beaver. Vice presidents—Geo. M. Boal and Wm. C. Patterson.

Secretary—John C. Miller. Treasurer—John Hamilton. The president to have power to name the executive committee.

The only change in the officers being that of treasurer, Capt. Austin Curtin having removed to New Jersey, John Hamilton, Esq., was elected in his place. The committee on place of meeting for next year reported in favor of Hunter's Park, which report was adopted.

Treasurer Curtin read his report which was as follows:

Balance in treasury Sept. 1892 - $510.92
Receipts up to Sept. 1893 - - $21.75
Total amount - - - $532.67
Expenditures - - - 21.65

Balance in treasury Sept. 1893 - $511.02
At this point D. F. Fortney, Esq., read the following paper, which was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The citizens of Centre county and our Veteran Club have, at sundry times heretofore, made efforts looking toward the erection of a monument to commemorate the part taken by Centre county in the war of the rebellion,

AND WHEREAS, In consequence of more pressing concerns crowding upon the attention of our people, the desire and the thought of many has not heretofore been consummated,

AND WHEREAS, The Veteran Club of Centre county now has in its treasury over $500 which could be devoted to that purpose and citizens of the county closely connected to our club are desirous of contributing toward such a fund, provided the movement be commenced and carried to completion at once.

AND WHEREAS, Centre county owes to the memory of her dead and to the commemoration of the efforts of those who live to see that a suitable monument is erected at a central place which will commemorate the part taken by her sons and especially by her eminent citizen, Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, then the governor of this commonwealth, in the great struggle for supremacy of law and the maintenance of the union. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Veteran Club of Centre county, in annual meeting assembled

First—That the balance in the treasury amounting to $511.00, as shown by the report of the treasurer, be and the same is hereby appropriated to the erection of a monument to commemorate the part taken by the soldiers of Centre county and the war governor of the commonwealth in the suppression of secession, provided that a fund of at least ten thousand ($10,000) dollars be bona fide subscribed for that purpose.

Second—That a committee of twenty-five of the members of this club and of an equal number of citizens not connected with the club be appointed by the president of the club, representing all parts of Centre county, to solicit subscriptions and carry forward the work of erection of a monument as herein set forth to final consummation.

Third—That, in the judgment of the Veteran Club, the monument should embody as one of its prominent features a statue of Hon. Andrew G. Curtin, the war governor of the commonwealth, so that his services to the state may be perpetuated in connection with the monument to our dead heroes.

As this closed the regular business of the club the following were called upon who responded in neat, brief and patriotic addresses: Capt. William Hayes, of Clinton county; Prof. E. J. Sparks, of State College; T. J. Smull, of Clinton county; Capt. William Michaels, of Lock Haven, and Aaron Williams, Esq., of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Martha Thomas being present recited a poem, of her own composition, dedicated to the old soldiers, being rich in humor and pathos, and portraying army life to perfection. It was listened to with marked attention and at its close three hearty cheers were given for Mrs. Thomas for contributing so much to the interest and pleasure of the day.

After the addresses the crowd scattered through the park to enjoy themselves in various ways till the train should arrive to convey them home.

BOY HORSE THIEVES.

Two Milton Boys Arrested for the Above Crime.

Last Wednesday night the horse, buggy and harness of Mr. Michael Strohm, at Centre Hill was stolen from his stable. Early Thursday morning Mr. Strohm telephoned the fact to his son, Commissioner James B. Strohm, in this place, and asked him to have the officers be on the lookout for the thieves. Later in the day he telephoned that it had been ascertained that the horse had been stolen by Charles Meyer and Stanley Ryan, two 18-year-old young men of Milton, Pa., and that they were driving down to Union county. Commissioner Strohm went on the 2.15 train Thursday afternoon to Milton, and that evening succeeded in locating the two young men and also made the discovery that they had driven to that place a small black mare, which they had traded at a livery stable for a duu horse. Mr. Strohm found the stable and, although the boys had cut off the mane and trimmed the animal's tail, yet it was no trouble at all for Mr. Strohm to identify his father's horse.

But, owing to the obstinacy of the justice of the peace in Milton, who refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of the boys on the ground that it was not law for him to do so, it was Saturday morning before James succeeded in getting both young men in the toils of the law, and then only when young Ryan, who had skipped to Williamsport, had been arrested there by the officers and brought back to Milton. With the assistance of an officer Mr. Strohm brought the young men to Bellefonte and they were lodged in jail here to await their trial. The horse and part of the harness were recovered from the liveryman and the buggy and remainder of the harness, which the boys had tried to sell but could not, were found in an old stable on the outskirts of Milton. The same were all brought back by a neighbor of Michael Strohm who had followed the young thieves down the valley.

What possessed the boys to steal is yet a mystery. Young Meyer is a son of Howard Meyer, and was raised in Potter township. On Saturday, the 25th ult., he and Ryan came up from Milton on a visit to the former's relatives. They remained until Wednesday afternoon and then departed saying they would spend the night in Centre Hall and go down home on the morning train. When it was discovered that the horse was stolen, inquiry led to the discovery that the boys had not been to Centre Hall at all, but had been seen driving down the valley Thursday morning. Of course, it was then an easy job to trace them and their ultimate capture was beyond doubt.

A Bright Outlook.

The Bellefonte Academy, which experienced the most prosperous year in its history last year, has very bright prospects for its opening next Monday. A large number of new students have already spoken for seats, indicating a large attendance for the coming year. The several departments are all under the charge of well known and experienced teachers. The primary and intermediate departments will be committed to the care of Miss Emily Williamson, of Cape May City, New Jersey. Miss Williamson is a very cultured lady, of long experience in the teaching profession, and will undoubtedly be an acquisition in this community.

Foster's Weather Predictions.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 2nd to the 6th and the next will reach the Pacific coast about the 7th, cross the western mountains by the close of the 9th, the great central valleys from the 9th to the 11th and the eastern states about the 12th. The warm wave will cross the western mountains about the 7th, the great central valleys about the 9th, and the eastern states about the 11th. The cool wave will cross the western mountains about the 10th, the great central valleys about the 12th and the eastern states about the 14th.

—The lot on North Allegheny street owned by Mr. J. B. Linn is more than half covered with Canada thistles. The proper authorities should see to it that they are not allowed to go to seed.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The General Routine of Business Transacted.

Council convened Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock with members Miller, Gerberich, Williams, Hillbush, Darit, Brockhoff, Bush and Garman present. Clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved as read.

There were no verbal nor written communications.

The Street Committee reported considerable work done on the streets in various parts of the town; repairs made on the Lamb street bridge so that the same is now safe for travel at the present. They also reported that the men furnished the Street Committee by the poor overseers went on a strike this morning because of the fact that in the future they were to be paid by the yard for breaking stone, instead of by the day, the price being 50 cents a cubic yard.

The Water committee reported the removal of pipe from through the lot of Mrs. Shortlidge to up St. Paul street. The pump is now being run fifteen hours per day, and there are no complaints of scarcity of water from any parts of the town. The committee also reported the award of contract for the new pipe and fixtures to be put down from the pump to the diamond.

The Fire and Police committee reported assistance rendered to the village of Milesburg last Thursday on the occasion of the fire down there.

The Market Committee reported $11.70 market fees collected during the past two weeks.

The Nuisance Committee reported a nuisance on East Logan street, occasioned by the residents of that locality throwing wash water, etc., in the street.

The Village Improvement committee reported that the petition for the new iron bridge on Lamb street had been approved by the grand jury and that the court would approve the same absolutely any time. They suggested the appointment of a committee to push the thing and see if it would not be possible to get the bridge built this fall. Also, the committee suggested the appointment of a committee to arrange for the holding of a proper centennial celebration sometime during the year 1895.

The President appointed as the first committee, on the Lamb street bridge, Messrs. S. H. Williams, R. L. Darit and Henry Brockhoff. As a committee on the centennial celebration the President appointed Messrs. James A. Beaver, A. S. Garman and C. T. Gerberich.

The Finance committee reported a balance due treasurer of $5,849.91.

Mr. Milford was present to make complaint about the nuisance occasioned by the sewer pipe down Lamb street. The matter was referred to the nuisance committee with instructions to give the matter immediate attention.

On motion the borough treasurer was empowered to raise sufficient money to meet current expenses until the first of October.

Mr. Hillbush reported the crossing by the United Brethren church in a very bad condition; also that Thomas street needed cleaning up very badly. The Street committee was instructed to give the matter prompt attention.

Borough Engineer, J. H. Wetzel, submitted a proposition to make an accurate map of the borough of Bellefonte, and furnish the council as many copies as desired for the sum of $250.00, the borough to furnish one hand to help with the surveying. He also made a proposition to furnish a profile map of the streets in the town for the sum of $100.00.

Following this there was a general experience meeting in the discussion of various subjects, after which the following bills were approved and council adjourned:

Isaac Mitchell, clerk - $12.50
J. H. Wetzel, surveying - 14.00
Borough Engineer, supplies - 25.00
Police Pay Roll - 50.00
Bite Fuel & Supply Co., coal - 109.53
Thomas Shaughnessy, market clerk - 1.00
E. T. Tuten, proposal notice - 4.50
Jenkins & Lingle, supplies - 6.25
Electric Light Co. lock up - 4.75
Samuel Gault, repairing bridge - 5.00
Street Pay Roll - 46.45
Chas. J. Shearer, blacksmithing - 1.50
Water Pay Roll - 40.75
Electric Light Co., for Streets - 209.50

Total Amount - $580.00
Prior to adjournment, Gen. James A. Beaver made a motion that the street committee be empowered to make some plans and advertise for bids for the lighting of the streets of Bellefonte after the present contract with the Electric Light company expires. The motion prevailed. Council then adjourned.

The First to Pay.

BELLEFONTE, Aug. 29, '94.
MR. WILLIAM GRAUVER,
District Agent Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York;

DEAR SIR:—Allow me to thank you and your company for the promptness in settling the loss on the life of my husband, Col. D. S. Keller; proofs of death were forwarded August 18th, and checks for $11,000.00 handed me to-day in full. Whenever an opportunity occurs I shall always speak a good word for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York.

Respectfully

M. E. R. KELLER.

Court Callings.

On the convening of court Wednesday afternoon the jury in the case of Commonwealth vs. Z. Hoover, brought in a verdict of guilty.

The court sentenced James Oswald, for larceny, to pay a fine of one dollar and imprisonment in the county jail 4 months.

The next case was that of the Commonwealth vs. Charles Johnston, assault and battery and assault with intent to commit rape. The defense was conducted by John Blanchard and Will Gray, Esqs. Both parties in this case live in SnowShoe. The trial of this case took up all of Wednesday afternoon and was not completed when court adjourned.

FIRE IN MILESBURG.

Three Dwelling Houses Totally Destroyed.

About 10.30 o'clock on Thursday morning, in Milesburg, caught fire from the stove and, notwithstanding every effort was put forth to put out the flames, it was without avail and they spread rapidly until the entire house was ablaze. From Grassmire's house the fire spread to the residence of Col. Weaver on one side and Mr. L. Bullock on the other. At this time it looked as if the entire street of houses would be burned down and the Bellefonte fire department was called on for aid. Both companies, the Logans and Undines, responded at once and went down in double-quick time. When the fire boys arrived on the scene the three houses above named were past saving, but one or two others were burning were saved, the fire being extinguished in short order. By one o'clock the firemen had rendered such good service that only the smouldering ruins remained. Some of the furniture was saved from Weaver's and Bullock's residence, but the most of Grassmire's was burned. All the properties were insured, but for how much, or the estimated loss, we are unable to give at this writing.

Personal Pencillings.

THAT DIME MUSEUM.

It Proved the Most Flattering Success of the Season.

Undoubtedly the most novel and amusing entertainment given in Bellefonte for many years was the exhibition of twenty-four living freaks given in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Tuesday evening by the Bellefonte "What Is It" Dime Museum Company. This entertainment was conceived and planned by Misses Emily Harris and Leona Maitland and to their untiring and zealous efforts in the interest of their enterprise is due the flattering success of Tuesday night's amusing exhibition. It requires no little labor to get up such an entertainment and the most cordial thanks of the Y. M. C. A. and its many friends should be tendered these young ladies who managed it, as well as to the freaks themselves for their willing and most successful assistance, to the young men who introduced the freaks in such a happy and ridiculous manner, to the friends who so kindly contributed refreshments, to the fair ladies who dispensed them in their wonted happy manner and to all who in any way contributed to the enjoyment of the evening.

Eight o'clock four hundred people were eagerly awaiting the moment when the museum doors would open, and when they did open, what a rush there was. In a moment the large gymnasium was crowded with amused and curious people whose amusement soon changed to perfect amazement and surprise as their eyes fell upon 24 freaks who looked as attractive and fascinating as the finest freaks to be seen in the World's Standard Museum. In fact, one would easily imagine that he was in the midst of the most popular French Museum. The arrangements of the freaks, and the decorations in general, all reflected great credit upon the management. Everything was museumlike. In one corner was a photograph tent, where silhouette pictures were taken, at the small price of ten cents, by Misses Katherine Harris and Elizabeth Blanchard. In the opposite corner was the famous merry-go-round in charge of Miss Marie Meek, Guy Harris and Wallace Gephart. Very many were "taken in" here. Around the museum were the freaks arranged on boxes and tables handsomely decorated. The freaks were represented as follows:

The mimic and fancy clog dancer, Burns Crider; Siamese Twins, Blanche Cook and Grace Mitchell; the Bearded Lady, Mr. W. B. Maitland; the Lion Tamer, Edward Hoy; Wild Man of Borneo, Charles Bosner; the Pin Cushion Man, E. Hedding; the Dwarf, Lotta Spigelmeier; the Glass Eater, Henrietta Butts; the Fat Woman, Harris Heylman; Albino, Jessie Laurie; the Gypsies, Paul Shaeffer and Tessie Lyon; the Tight Rope Walker, Elsie Weaver; Three-handed Boy, Mowry Jackson; the Giantess, Allie Maitland; Monkey, Luther Hughes; Living Skeleton, John Bower; Snake Chamer, Annie Curtin; the $10,000 Beauty, Burt Bayard; Tom Thumb and wife, Lee Walker and Margaret Garman; the Spotted Man, Austin Brew; Armless Woman, Marguerite Potter; Lady Sampson, Newton Bailey; the Bicycle Freak, Clarence Achenbach; the Educated Fleas, "Have you seen them?" the Bodiless Woman, May Crider.

The parts were so well taken by each and everyone that it is impossible to detail any of their good points now, though mention ought to be made of Tom Thumb's beautiful rendering of "Nellie Bawn." The freaks were introduced by our well-known humorists, John Blanchard, George Meek, Wilbur Harris and James R. Hughes, in a way that provoked continuous outbursts of laughter and applause from the surging crowd.

During the evening the music was furnished to the enjoyment of all by Mr. Culveyhouse with his piano solos and the boys of the home talent Minstrel Company who rendered some of the songs that made their entertainment over a year ago such a howling success.

Refreshments consisting of coffee, cake, ice cream, etc. were provided in the association rooms by the ladies auxiliary after the museum performance was over.

The handsome sum of $60 for gross receipts, and about $47 as the amount cleared for the Y. M. C. A., indicate louder than words how the entertainment was appreciated by the public.
